

Agricultural Bamboo

2 Days Immersive Workshop

“The climate is changing, the agriculture must adapt.”

Bamboo cultivation in Southern Europe, under certain conditions, has a very promising future. Before making your decision, trust experienced specialists in bamboo cultivation.

Two days of theoretical and, above all, practical training in the field will enable you to make an informed decision, free from intrusive and misleading marketing.

Together, we can study your specific case, and based on the information you provide, we will create a tailored simulation to achieve optimal productivity (€10,000 to €80,000 per hectare per year once production begins, with no need for annual replanting).

The training is led by:

Yves Crouzet, an agronomist specializing in bamboo cultivation and honorary president of the European Bamboo Association. He managed and developed the Bamboueraie de Anduze park (in Cévennes) for nearly 30 years and, in 1990, founded the Portuguese company Bambuparque, which specializes in bamboo cultivation and production.

Akash Thapaliya, director of Bambuparque, also a bamboo specialist, originally from Nepal, a country with many bamboo species.

The lessons are given in:
French, English and Portuguese.
